Merchants Would Pay Tory Fish Bounty Says Higgins

THE END OF HOSTILITIES

DUBLIN, April 16—Eamonn De Valera, Dan Breen and P. J. Rutledge, are still at large; but a document found on Austin Stack, who was captured on Saturday requested the "President of the Republic to order immediate cessation of hostilities." The document was in Stack's own handwriting and was ready for signatures of all the members of the Irregular Executive Committee. Had the document been completed it would have put Eamonn DeValera in the position of having to call off hos-

Billy Disclosed Secret at Bell Island Meeting Last Night

In answer to a question put to him by Mr. Spencer at his meeting in the Star Hall on Bell Island last night, after he had spent some time boosting the Bennett Fish Bounty ruse, Mr. W. J. Higgins, Tory candidate for St. John's East and deviser-in-chief of the Tory political schemes, said that while he was not quite clear on the point of how the bounty would be paid, his information on the subject was that it would be paid by the merchants, Messrs. Crosbie

Hickman, Monroe and others. It may be taken from this that the Tory bounty scheme would be to hand the million and a half dollars over to the merchants direct from the Treasury and leave it to their discretion to pay the bounty to their dealers. This, of course, would mean that the merchants would make the price of fish say $4.00 a qtl., where it would be worth $5.00 and give the fishermen the extra dollar as the bounty, leaving them with the million and a half dollars of the tax-payers' hard-earned money to divide up amongst themselves. While no sensible man, knowing the make-up of the Tory-merchant Party, would dream for a moment that such a clique would ever consider anything in the nature of a bounty that was not ultimately going into their own pockets, it is somewhat surprising to have that view confirmed by no less a power in the Opposition than Higgins himself.

The Tide of Victory Gathers Full Force In St. John's West

Prime Minister Nails Saturdays Card and Turns Tables On Quitter Bennett

The disgust of the electors of St. John's West for the despicable tactics of Cashinism and his organ the Evening Telegram was much in evidence at the West End Committee Rooms last night. At least fifty new members put in an appearance, determined to take an active hand in the copper-fastening of the victory which Prime Minister Squires and his colleagues in St. John's West will win. Prominent business men who do not usually engage in active campaign work are aroused to the point where they will no longer permit the wholesale lying of the Evening Telegram and Daily News to be broadcast over the country with deliberate intent to deceive the electorate. Saturday's bare-faced attempt to turn the minds of the people of the city from thinking over the landslide of votes which is falling to the liberal candidates, Bartlett, Bulley and Burke in St. John's East drove Higgins to desperation, something had to be done over Sunday to divert the peoples' attention from the true conditions of affairs. The Cashinist claim of five seats in St. John's was put in the crap-heap on Saturday forenoon, Squires and four men was the talk of the street until the crooked message, engineered by a Bay Roberts Doctor saying that Calpin had resigned and that the Prime Minister intended contesting Hr. Grace, reached the city. As early as noon Cashin's and Higgins' fairy-tale was in the mouths of the poor deluded creatures whose political madness was of such a character as to make them comparable of being 'stuffed' with any kind of bunkum. However, Mr. Calpin was on the spot to deny absolutely the lie on Sunday, while the Prime Minister at last night's Committee meeting simply wiped up the floor with his opponents lying utterances, as a suitable mop. The Prime Minister arrived at the Committee Rooms shortly after 8 o'clock. It was with difficulty that he forced his way through the dense crowd, amid cheers for Squires, Progress, Work and Wages and the Humber. Sir Richard received a tremendous reception when he arose to speak. "I came up this evening," said the Premier, "to show I am still here; but if any of you read the Cashin organ the Evening Telegram you will probably find that I am in Hr. Grace." I am here and mean to remain here; but where is Mr. Bennett? Continuing the Premier stated that Saturday's fanatical and lying attempt to bluff the electors was not so much intended for local consumption here in St. John's where the lie could instantly be nailed, but the object was to convey the idea to the outports that he was weak in St. John's West. He denounced this deliberate lying on the part of the Evening Telegram and asked his Committee men and the country in-general to judge the Telegram's reputation for truth or falsehoods by the standard of Saturday's fabricated report and such an idiotic statement only furnished convincing proof that the parties responsible for it were not fit to be at large. They were playing a losing game and it was quite plain that the pink sheet was smeared all over with Morineism. St. John's Electors knew what that meant in the past.

Tory Water Street Viciously attacked Sir Robert Bond and the Grand Falls Enterprise.

Referring to the policy of Humber development, upon which he and his party were appealing to the country, Sir Richard pointed out the same breed of Tory merchants opposed Sir Robert Bond and the Grand Falls enterprise as they were now opposing him and his government. At a meeting held in the British Hall in 1905 a resolution denouncing Sir Robert Bond and Grand Falls was seconded by Mr. John B. Ayre an uncle of the scion of notable families who in the person of Mr. Jim Ayre is a Tory candidate in Twillingate District. That meeting protested and 'resolved' to the limit of Toryism against development of Newfoundland's resources. They petitioned the Imperial government to disallow the Bill. Morine in the Assembly, moved no less than 21 amendments against the measure, hoping to kill the Legislation, and his motions in the House were seconded by A. M. McKay, the father of the Crossie-Cashin-Bennett candidate Mr. W. A. McKay, who is contesting Port de Grave against Mr. Winter. In this, as in everything else, the Tories are running true to type. Mr. John Ayre (Continued on page 3.)

The Valley of the Giants

By PETER B. KYNE.

CHAPTER XXVI

"Why, not at all, not at all! Delighted to help you, Mr. Ogilvy. Let me see, now. There are several attorneys in Sequoia, all men of excellent ability and unimpeachable integrity, whom I recommend with the utmost pleasure. Cadman & Banes, with offices in the Knights of Pythias Temple, would be just the people, although there is Rodney McKendrick, in the Chamber of Commerce Building—a splendid fellow, Mr. Ogilvy, and most desirable. Also there is Mitchell Ormsby—I forget where his office is, but you can find it in the telephone-book; and if I may be pardoned a dash of parental ego, there is my son Henry Poundstone, Junior. While Henry is a young man, his career in the law thus far has been most gratifying, although he hasn't had as broad an experience as the others I mention, and perhaps your choice had better lie between Cadman & Banes and Rodney McKendrick. You can't go wrong on either of these two."

"Thank you a thousand times," Mr. Ogilvy murmured, and hung up. "We thought so, Buck, we thought so," he soliloquized. "Yes, Cadman & Banes or Rodney McKendrick may do, but Lord have mercy on the corporate soul of the N.C.O. if I failed to retain Henry Poundstone, Junior. What a wise plan it is to look up the relatives of a public official! Well! Forward men, follow me—to Henry's office."

Henry Poundstone, Junior, proved to be the sole inhabitant of one rather bare office in the Cardigan Block. Buck had fully resolved to give him a retainer of a thousand dollars, or even more, if he asked for it, but after one look at Henry he cut the appropriation to two hundred and fifty dollars. Young Mr. Poundstone was blonde and frail, with large round spectacles, rabbit teeth, and the swiftly receding chin of the terrapin. Moreover, he was in such a flutter of anticipation over the arrival of his client that Buck deduced two things: to wit, that the Mayor had telephoned Henry he was apt to have a client, and that as a result of this miracle, Henry was in no fit state to discuss the sordid subject of fee and retainers. Ergo, Mr. Ogilvy decided to obviate such discussion now or in the future. He handed Henry a cheque for two hundred and fifty dollars, which he wrote on the spot, and with his bright winning smile remarked: "Now, Mr. Poundstone, we will proceed to business. That retainer isn't a large one, I admit, but neither is the job I have for you to-day. Later, if need of our services on a large scale should develop, we shall of course expect to make a new arrangement whereby you will receive the customary retainer of all of our corporation attorneys. I trust that is quite satisfactory."

"Eminently so," gasped the young disciple of Blackstone.
"Very well, then; let us proceed to business." Buck removed from a small leather bag a bale of legal-looking documents. "I have here," he announced, "agreements from landowners along the proposed right of way of the N.C.O. to give to that company, on demand, within one year from date, satisfactory deeds covering rights of way which are minutely described in the said agreements. I wish these deeds prepared for signing and recording at the earliest possible moment."

"You shall have them this time tomorrow," Henry promised.

The head of Henry Poundstone, Junior, was held high for the first time since he had flung his modest shingle to the breezes of Sequoia six months before, and there was an unaccustomed gleam of importance in his pale eyes as he rushed to his father's office in the city hall.

"By Jinks, Dad!" he exulted. "I've hooked a fish at last—and he's a whooper."

"Omit the cheers, my boy. Remember I sent that fish to you," his father answered with a bland and indulgent smile. "What are you doing for Ogilvy, and how large a retainer did he give you?"

"I'm making out deeds to his rights of way. Ordinarily it's about a fifty-dollar job, but without waiting to discuss finances he handed me out two hundred and fifty dollars. Why, Dad, that's more than you make a month for your job as Mayor."

"Well, that isn't a bad retainer. It's an opening wedge. However, it would be mere chicken-feed in San Francisco."

"Read this," Henry urged, and thrust a yellow telegraph-form under the Mayor's nose. The latter adjusted his glasses and read:

"Imperative building operations commence immediately. Local scepticism injurious and delays dangerous. We must show good faith to our New York friends. J.P.M. insists upon knowing promptly where we stand with Sequoia city council. See them immediately and secure temporary franchise if possible, to enable us to cross Water Street at B Street and build out Front Street. Your arrangement with Cardigan for use of his mill-dock and spur for unloading material from steamer ratified by board but regarded as hold-ups. "HOCKLEY."

This telegram, as the Mayor observed, was dated that day and addressed to Mr. Buchanan Ogilvy, Hotel Sequoia, Sequoia Calif. Also, with a keen eye to minor details, he noted that it had been filed at San Francisco subsequent to Ogilvy's visit to him that afternoon.

"Ah-h-h!" breathed his Honour. "That accounts for his failure to bring the matter up at our interview. Upon his return to the hotel he found this telegram—and got bust at once. By Jupiter, this looks like business. Henry, how did you come into possession of this telegram?"

"It must have been mixed up in the documents Ogilvy left with me. I found it on my desk when I was sorting out the papers, and in my capacity of attorney for the N.C.O. I had no hesitancy in reading it."

"Well, I declare! Wonder who Hockley is. Never heard of that fellow in

was in the Upper House and did everything possible to strangle the Grand Falls industry, the only difference in their personnel of the Tory Opposition of 1923 to that of 1905 was that they were younger. Their sentiments and feelings towards the common people of Nfld. was the same. The wage-earners were to be kept under and dependent; the slaves of a codfish aristocracy. In his party, the Liberal party were two gentlemen who voted for Bond and the Grand Falls enter prize, and who were now contesting districts under his leadership for the Humber. The Prime Minister referred to Hon. Dr. Barnes in Twillingate and Mr. Joseph Maddock in Carbonear. In conclusion Sir Richard pointed out to the Committee the absurdity of split votes. There was no sense in such a form of voting. In every contest a man took sides, otherwise he didn't know what he was doing. The vote was absolutely lost if parties wanted to be able to say they voted on both sides. Sir Richard said he would be going to Mr. Grace in a week or ten days, and during his absence he called upon his loyal supporters to keep his place in the hearts of St. John's West Electors as warm as it was to-day. The regular systematic canvass of the district was about to begin. An organization had been planned for the big push, which would result, he had not the slightest doubt in a triumphant victory for himself and colleagues.

Hon. Dr. Campbell had a message to convey to the Evening Telegram and it was this: "Sir Richard Squires was still here and going strong; but, Bennett was not here," in St. John's West. After representing the district for 10 years, although "he thinks he's leader" he runs away to Harbor Grace. The people of St. John's have made up their minds where the weakness was and who feared defeat. It was not Squires, oh no. This latest fake was a case for the Tories where "chickens come home to roost," and in the present instance they come all too quickly. Dr. Campbell then handed out some hot shot to the scions and millionaires patriots of the Cashin-Crosbie type. These men Cashin and Crosbie were continually telling the people that they were millionaires. The accounts of the country showed how they behaved. While the war was on we kept still. These patriots professed us from the Germans by pulling our coats. They got everything in the shape of a steam and a government contract, and themselves to the tune of hundreds of thousands of dollars. They fed themselves while you boys and sons fought and died in Europe's carnival of slaughter. These are the Knights who tell you want to get back into the government to save Newfoundland.

Dr. Campbell made it clear, Bennett had not, and will not have the Humber deal. The answer comes out of the Ballot Box. May 3rd will be Newfoundland's answer to the British government. If you reject the Squires' government, then you reject the Humber policy, and stagnation and poverty will assuredly be the portion of the people. The scions of notable families want these conditions, the necessities of the people in prosperity for the Tory party. Dr. Campbell also joined with the Premier in urging the voters of St. John's to vote straight ticket.

Mr. Fitzgibbon was in fine and delivered a rattling speech, is undoubtedly very popular. He said St. John's West conceded the election of Squires and Campbell and the Cashinites were daily becoming desperate as their mere canvassing were despicable in their endeavour to elect one man. It could only be accomplished by split votes. This election was not a test between men, it was a part of progress led by Squires against a commercial combine, which sought to throttle the people. The Rule of Water Street must not prevail. St. John's West, he felt, would see to it that Toryism received its solar plexus on May 3rd. Hearty cheers were given for Fitzgibbon.

Squires, Campbell and Fitzgibbon the winners in the West. Bartlett, Bulley and Burke the victors in the East. Six Squires men for St. John's. Hear the Humber Hum. Work in Plenty and Good Wages at Harbor Grace.

Crosbie Will Meet Defeat in B. D. V.

Fooled Port-de-Grave and Won't Fool Bay-de-Verde Twice

What About That 2 1-2 Mr. Cashin?

(Editor Evening Advocate)

Freshwater, Dear Sir—It is not very often I see any news in your paper from Freshwater, this little fishing town, which is solid for the Squires Government. Mr. Cave and Cramm held a meeting here on Wednesday night, April 4th, in the Court Hall. It was a meeting well worth speaking of. The hall was filled long before the speakers arrived.

Mr. Cramm, the first speaker, told us, and explained carefully the difficulties which the government had to pass through. He also told why the young men were leaving the country. The government's aim was to find employment to keep them in their own country, while the opposition was fighting to drive them out, and blame the government for it.

Mr. Cave gave us a splendid speech. He told how hard the opposition fought against them in trying to bust up the Government and insulting them. He explained clearly the Humber Proposition and the great future ahead for Newfoundland.

Freshwater has only a few Tories. They call themselves Crosbie's disciples. They follow him up thinking that he would get kink, and that they will be made "rulers" in his Household. But not yet, my lord, will he get kink. For its now he meets his defeat. B.D.V. knows how he fooled Port de Grave. Why didn't he go back there again? He knows why. Ask the people at Briggs Cupids and surrounding places.

I guess he is done giving his disciples the three and four hundred dollar grabs to dig wells, build nice wall and concrete walks around their houses. He will have to give them all now an enlargement of his face, as long as one or two his the rest will get jealous.

It is rumoured that Cashin and Crosbie are going to the gold fields this summer. I wonder what for? A lot of gold or down to look at his famous "spars", which are running down at Cape Harrison. In answer to the advertisement in the Daily Mail that Puddister was lost, it is reported that he stole into town Friday evening about dark, so that nobody would see him. He got out again through the night cover, and is still astray somewhere. The Daily News will have to turn him over a pill to bring his back.

I am sorry for Mr. Hickman to go to Mr. Grace to get his lick, as he might have got that in B.D.V.

I guess he bought too many votes last elections to try it again. Mr. Editor, what we need in Newfoundland to-day is labor. The young men of this generation are getting educated (as Mr. Cramm pointed out) and they will go to the fishery, and when no other situation awaits them they will get out to other lands. The fishermen are termed by the merchants as the low-man, the under-dog; but now we are rising to the age of knowledge and understanding. The young men will not be called such names any longer, the Hon. Squires is a young man. He understands the young man of the day and he is going to open up the country for them, where they can get a good living and an honest where they shall be no more called the under-dog by the merchant. Go to it Squires, you are the man. Young men vote for Squires, look where some of your companions are at Grand Falls. They are not under dogs now. Do Crosbie and the merchants want such places to open up? No. Why? Because they know that the young men are being educated and Squires is leading them in the light, and if a great company opened up and the resources of Nfld developed the young men will leave the fishing boat, which now don't pay, therefore the merchants will lose because they won't get the fish to buy to make their boodle on. I am afraid some of the St. John's merchants will have to go to Humbermouth yet.

Just think of it, a man told me that he had to pay five dollars for a hoghead of salt on the Labrador when they get it in St. John's for two dollars; something astray. Oh God have mercy on them when they shall be like the rich man and Lazarus, they shall call for a cup of cold water or salt from the fisherman to quench the fire.

We all thought, Mr. Editor, since the war was over, that the day of spies and Judas's were over. We have greater Judas's than the time of Christ. We have the Judas who betrayed the fishermen in Newfoundland; Jesse Winsor and his disciples. The man who sold his birthright to Toryism. I heard those men speak as sheep in wolf's clothing; they had it all very nice. Oh, no. No party politics; just a good price for our fish and taxes cut down. Certainly everybody wanted taxes cut down. So did I. I heard those men say—God was their Judge, their Maker and Creator they were not out for any party politics; they did not care what government ruled the country. But what happened fishermen? "Betrayed" by their own brothers. He wonder Jesse went insolvent. He will go worse than that yet.

(The Daily News)—People are

sick. They have heard that howling this last twelve years, not a dog's howl, but like that of a wolf. When the fish regulations were on what happened. The Daily News was sent by the score to Spain and other countries saying that our warehouses and stores were blocked with fish and unsalable. One of our agents told me that when he tried to make a sale the first thing the foreign merchants would show him was a Daily News. Nfld plenty fish get for nothing by bye. That is what happened to our fish markets. If Jesse Winsor had got alive then and put those papers out of existence he would have done our fishermen and country some good.

As Cashin told Mr. Cave that the 2 1-2 gave him his elections last time, he won't need the 2 1-2 this time. His own character will put him there. Go to it Cave and Cramm. Vote for the Squires Government, youngman.

Good times and no more underdogs. Mr. Editor, I have taken up enough of your valuable space, now would you please answer me those few questions:

How many million dollars did the Morris government sink Newfoundland?

How many millions did the five branch railroads cost?

What great industries did they open up to give employment to the people?

What was the objection to Grand Falls?

How much money did Crosbie squander in Bay de Verde District?

How much did Hick man pay out for votes last elections?

Yours in the Fight

THE FUTURE YOUNG VOTER.

FOUR KRUPP'S DIRECTORS ARE ARRESTED BY FRENCH

ESSEN, April 1—Four directors of the Krupp works were arrested by French military authorities to day on charges of inciting an attack by German workmen on troops on Saturday, which culminated in killing nine Germans and wounding thirty-four others. The casualties at the Krupp works followed a visit of a body of French soldiers sent to requisition motor trucks. The French declared that the Germans set the alarm blowing which is always taken for a danger signal, and the workmen in crowds gathered around them. Stones were thrown, according to the French, and some Germans fired on them with revolvers. The fire was returned first over the Germans' heads, then point blank among them. The arrival of reinforcements with tanks and armored cars saved the detachment and some captured Frenchmen from a further clash with the crowd which dispersed at the sign of machines of warfare. The Germans admit the soldiers fired a

GEORGETOWN FOR WINTER

Georgetown, Port de Grave Dist. April 12th, 1923 (Editor Evening Advocate)

Dear Sir—Please allow me space in your widely circulated paper the good old Advocate for to say a few words concerning this place. On Tuesday evening April 10th we had a visit from Mr. H. A. Winter, the Liberal Candidate. A meeting was held in the school-room which was filled to its utmost capacity. The audience listened to one of the finest speeches ever heard in Georgetown. At the close of the meeting, three cheers were given the speaker and the workmen's Premier, Sir R. A. Squires. There are about 70 voters in this vicinity and 50 will mark their X for the government candidate. Someone had the audacity to send a few Daily News around here. They should have kept them for their own use, as the Advocate supplies all the news around here. The people are solid for the government that is led by our noble statesman, Sir R. A. Squires.

Wishing the Advocate and the government every success. We are yours for victory.

warning volley over their heads, but declare that immediately after the warning they shot to kill.

OUR SQUARE CASHIN

According to "The Telegram," "The News," Cashin, Crosbie, Bennett and Walsh are the only statesmen left in the country. These papers call the three bosses, progressive Liberals. As "Bill" says: "What's in a name?" and Jim says "A Tory by any other name would curse us still."

What do the sacrificing mothers and fathers think of this ponderous Knight of the British Empire, this Sir Michael Cashin, who was off like a flash to the wreck on the Southern Shore when a steamer laden with food for impoverished Belgian children went ashore? Did he go there to save the food for Belgium? Did he go there to help out those whose money had bought the food for starving Belgium? No, he did not. He went up there like an eagle pounces upon a poor lame bird which has fallen to the ground. Our "noble" Cashin went up there to make what money he could out of salvage. It is said that he cleared hundreds of thousands of dollars out of bacon and lard; and his "man behind" was able to clean up a good deal more than a fisherman would earn in many years.

This is our "noble" Cashin, who made a pile out of the food which had been given by generous-hearted Americans for the little starving Belgian children. This is the man that "The Telegram" and "The News," says must be returned!

The heart of every returned soldier, the hearts of the mothers and fathers who have given their all, burn within them as they think of this.

not think he will have the opportunity of supplying now.

We really know that Mr. A. E. Hickman is very trustworthy at his own office. We are from Spaniards Bay on different occasions have called at Mr. Hickman's on business. You will have to make a weekly confession to make an appointment to see him, and what on earth will we have to do if he got returned. St. John's people say that Harbor Grace is the hardest district they can size up; but they might take this down, that our intentions are to return three men to power for Sir Richard Squires and the Humber. The most difficult times that ever was in history Sir R. A. Squires has had it since 1919, and no child has gone hungry as far as he could handle the situation. But, had he listened to the great millionaires like Crosbie and Cashin, who said give them no relief, they would know the taste of hunger. I hardly think it worth my while to mention Archibald. Thank you Mr. A. W. Piccott for coming to this district.

STRONG VOTE, Spaniards Bay, Apl. 10th, 1923.

Tories Not Wanted in Hr. Grace District

Don't Want Second Hand Goods Like Bennett and Hickman.

(Editor Evening Advocate) Dear Sir—Will you permit me space in the columns of your valuable paper about the outlook of the situation in Spaniards Bay and its vicinity. Let me state here that after the coming of our dear old friend Mr. A. W. Piccott we know that Mr. Grace is sure for the Squires Govt.

The people in this vicinity have already known Mr. A. W. Piccott and his past friendships amongst us, and their intentions are to vote him; and his colleagues back to power so that we can have that great Humber Deal developed. We might say, Mr. Editor, the people of this District don't want second-hand goods. Their intentions is to down second-hand members like J. R. Bennett, A. E. Hickman and Archibald. Permit me to make remarks on Mr. J. R. Bennett, and to ask him what did he ever do while he was a member of parliament. We know from our own information he was in power while at the Militia Dept. in 1918 and 1919, but what benefit did he do for our brave boys who offered their service while he was at that Department? We know one gallant act he did when he was on the other side by giving us a bottle of beer a man at the Race Course in Scotland. Another gallant act he had done by holding us up about 50 hours at the city of St. John's after returning to

But every chance has been given to him to invest and so some supplying this last three and a half years, but nothing has he done because he was not a member of parliament. I do

Hickman And Corruption

The Daily News quotes Mr. A. E. Hickman: "The corruption of the present Government."

Turn up Supreme Court proceedings in 1920. Hickman found guilty of bribery and corruption and was disqualified from standing as a candidate in the bye-election.

Now what about corruption?

Newfoundland's Emancipation Day May 3rd.

THE GOVERNMENT'S RETURN EMANCIPATES NEWFOUNDLAND FROM—

The stagnation in the development of her natural resources by taking the most valuable of her lands out of the incompetent hands that have let them lie dormant for 30 years.

The necessity of relying wholly on the fishing industry as a means of support for her people.

The necessity of purchasing practically her entire foodstuffs other than fish abroad as well as most of her manufactured articles.

The threat of Canadian annexation by reason of the British Government having joined Newfoundland in her national development.

THE IMMEDIATE FRUITS OF EMANCIPATION WILL BE—

Partnership with the British Government in the biggest natural resources development in the history of Newfoundland—the Humber development.

The immediate expenditure in the country of approximately $10,000,000.

The immediate employment of at least 8,000 workers of all classes from highly skilled engineers down to water-boys.

The increased trade that the expenditure of this $10,000,000 mostly in labour, will bring about.

The permanent employment in connection with the paper mills of several thousands of men, meaning the enrichment of the country by many millions a year.

The utilisation of the Humber electrical power for the manufacture of nitrate of lime for cheap fertiliser that will bring into productiveness thousands of acres of the at present waste land that should produce much of the food that millions have had to be sent out of the country to purchase.

The opening up of what is supposed to be the biggest richest copper areas in the North-American continent by the utilisation of cheap electrical power which can be transmitted economically for 200 miles.

Had the Statesmen of old begun at this end of the development which would have ensured an increased population through the many industries that would now be in existence, the big debt we are carrying as the result of operations at a loss of a railway built long before its time, would not now be depressing us. But it is now too late to mend. Therefore see to it that May 3rd is the greatest day of Emancipation and the dawn of better things for this old country of ours.

PORTUGAL COVE GIVES GREAT RECEPTION

(By Telephone)

Portugal Cove was en fete last night when Bartlett, Bulley and Burke, the Squires candidates, arrived to hold a meeting. The whole place was lit up with stage powder and tar barrels, and guns were continually firing for the popular members. A great number met the candidates as they came towards the settlement and when the meeting opened in the Parish Hall, standing room was at a premium. The chair was taken by Mr. A. Churchill, who introduced the candidates in a pleasing manner. Messrs. Bartlett, Bulley and Burke then spoke outlining the great industrial policy of Sir Richard Squires and pointing out the great industrial policy of Sir Richard Squires and pointing out the era of Progress the country faces under his Government, while the only thing the Tory Opposition offer is more taxes. Mr. M. F. Caul, well-known East End grocer, also spoke, giving a fine address on the value of the election.

Ringling cheers closed one of the best public meetings ever held at the great Liberal centre, Portugal Cove, and a record vote is assured for Bartlett, Bulley and Burke.

Jailed For Having Flour in His Home

A Story of the Tory Merchant Days of 1899

Sometime ago we had a visit from a man who told us a story of the Morine-Tory days of 1898-1899. He said a certain man in Conception Hickman and Corruption!

Bay applied to the Government for work. He had nothing to do and no money to buy the necessary food required from day to day. Whether he was asked if he had any food in his house or not, we do not know, but the next thing was that a policeman was sent to search his house.

He found a barrel of flour there, and because of that, he was brought before a Magistrate and sentenced to thirty days hard labour in jail.

Now who is there who wants to risk going back to days when that would be done?

Who is going to risk Morine, Rule again, and the Tory Hard Times, and all the laws relating to Poor Relief he revived, and men put in jail for having flour in their houses?

"God save the country from Tory Times" is the fervent prayer of the fishermen and toilers everywhere.

The man referred to above applied for work; it is possible that they asked him if he had any food in his house and as he might have had only this flour, he said "no," but that is no reason for putting him in jail because he had a barrel of flour in his house. It shows what awful times these were, when a man had no right to get work to keep his house going as long as he had the least bit of food left.

Are the fishermen going back to these days, when the Tory Merchants and the Tory crowd ruled the land?

These men are now again, at a most critical time, wanting to take charge of the Government. They are like political vultures hovering over poor Newfoundland, waiting for her to fall down when they will descend and take what they can.

It was in the darkest hour Newfoundland ever had that the Tory Govt. gave away most of the country to Reid.

Newfoundland's curse is Toryism, and the people must fight it tooth and nail. Providence will help them in keeping out the Tory grafters, and save the country from another period of meal and sour molasses, and imprisonment because a man has a barrel of flour in his house.

Coaker Got Fine Reception At Greenspond Saturday

Is Monroe Responsible Rowdyism?

(Special to The Advocate)

GREENSPOND, April 17.—Coaker, Winsor and Abbott arrived here in the F. P. Union at 4 o'clock Saturday evening. The settlement was decorated with bunting and about 150 men gathered on the wharf with musketry; cannon also belched forth its welcome. The men formed a parade with guns and paraded through the town to the L. O. A. Hall, where a meeting was held. The three speeches occupied 2½ hours. The Humber development policy was dealt with by Mr. Coaker and thunderous cheers greeted all speakers as they arose to speak and at the close of their addresses. A few Tory heelers intoxicated with liquor tried to obstruct the parade, but the crowd in the parade pushed through. Walter Carter was the chief offender in this respect, but he got a couple of knocks in the jaw for his interference. Greenspond, since Monroe arrived, has been drenched with liquor. Bonavista Bay will hold Monroe responsible for introducing rowdyism into Bonavista district, as neither Morine or Morison would tolerate the use of liquor in elections. Mr. Coaker has not in all his career used an ounce of liquor for electioneering purposes. Greenspond will cast a 50 per cent vote for Coaker, Winsor and Abbott. Greenspond was always a Tory stronghold, and the vote this election will be about same as in 1919. Canvass will continue of the smaller settlements, working up to Gambo. The canvass so far has covered all the large settlements and only the smaller places in the Bay have yet to be visited. Mr. Coaker reports that out of 4000 voters already visited, 2800 will vote against Monroe. We want the Humber and will vote for the three Government candidates.

Cashin Taxation $38 Per Head Squires Taxation $30 Per Head

Cashin talks a lot about Taxation. CASHIN KNOWS THAT IN 1919 WHEN HE WAS PREMIER, EVERY MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD WAS TAXED BY HIM TO THE TUNE OF $38.00 (THIRTY-EIGHT DOLLARS EACH).

THE TAXATION UNDER SQUIRES IS UNDER THIRTY DOLLARS ($30.00) per head!

That's a difference of Eight dollars for every man, woman and child that Squires has cut off of Cashin's Taxation, or a help of $50.00 to the average family.

Under the Humber development taxation will be further reduced by $60.00 to the average family.

Cashin and Crosbie help themselves out of the Public Chest.

SQUIRES AND COAKER HELP THE PEOPLE.

Cashin and Crosbie say: Give 'em meal and molasses.

Squires and Coaker say: Give them honest work.

Tory Times mean jail for a poor man who has more than a barrel of flour in his house.

Liberal Times mean Progress, Prosperity, plenty of work and wages, and Reduction of Taxation.

THAT IS WHY SQUIRES IS COMING BACK.

BONAVISTA BAY WILL ANSWER MONROE MAY 3

The Opposition story regarding Mr. Coaker's reception at Greenspond was a gross misrepresentation, as is shown by the largely signed message from Greenspond to-day.

This latest Tory attempt to fool the public is on a par with their Saturday's fabrication about Sir R. A. Squires in St. John's West and is another demonstration as to what credence can be given to the desperate Opposition tactics.

The Tory Merchants see they are playing a losing game.

There is no necessity to deal with this Greenspond misrepresentation. The published message tells its own story.

Yesterday's Telegram intimated there was no meeting.

Messrs. Coaker, Winsor and Abbott held a most enthusiastic and successful meeting after a reception on the public wharf and parade through Greenspond, under the roar of musketry and cheers of hundreds of supporters, while the town was bedecked with bunting.

Greenspond was always Morine's stronghold and it is significant, despite Opposition falsehoods that Mr. Coaker and colleagues received such an outburst of popular sentiment in the centre where the scattered remnants of the Jesse Winsor-Morine movement are making a last stand.

There was an attempt of rowdyism on the part of opposition heelers, which was frustrated, however.

At the same time, Mr. Monroe's entry in the district has not been attended with any enviable results; and it is a fact that this incident is the first clear instance in Bonavista Bay where the campaign has been interrupted by organized rowdyism.

Mr. Coaker's position in Bonavista Bay is an unshakable one and will be only further strengthened by the attempts of those who want to destroy, by such means, that which he and the fishermen have built up in the North.

Go to it, Monroe, Winsor and Little, and see where you will be on Polling Day. Coaker, Winsor and Abbott will give you their answer then.

Grand Falls Has the News From Other Places

(Special to The Advocate)

GRAND FALLS, April 16.—A meeting of committee and friends here Saturday night developed into a mass meeting, filling the parish hall even to the outside doors. Addresses were made by Messrs. Ruby of St. John's, Russell of Bay Roberts, Butt of Carbonear and Gay of this town. The meeting was a most enthusiastic one, and repeated outbursts to Mr. Butt, who was speaking when 11 o'clock struck, to "carry on" carried the meeting well into midnight. At the close a hearty vote of thanks, proposed by Mr. Gregory Kelly, was accorded the speakers.

The Tory Grafters Dream

Here's how they say the Tory Grafters have it planned in their dreams of more boodle:

CASHIN: Coastal Contracts, Wrecking Tugs, etc.

CROSBIE: Coal for all the Institutions, West Indian Service, etc.

BENNETT: Airship Service, Wireless Plants, etc.

HICKMAN: Coastal Contracts, more coastal contracts and other pickings. But they are only dreams that will never come true.

INDUSTRY IS KING

The Cashin-Crosbie Bunch Will Never Get Back

(Editor Evening Advocate) I say right here, Sir, that the Hon. W. F. Coaker has brought a new feeling to this country and that feeling is this. The Worker has thoroughly realized his power through organization. No more shall we be bound to slavery by the click on Water Street.

Come on, Squires and Coaker. We are with you to help carry through your big industrial movement. We are proud of your ideas and proud of the men you have chosen to represent us in this district.

In Dr. Barnes we have a man who will extend our education system and there is no element which will enter into our future success more vitally; have greater influences and bearing on our national prosperity, than perfect and popular education.

Again, we have another influential man in the person of Mr. Brown. And truly it can be said he is a labour man, a man who during the last two years has devoted his time and talent in the interest of his fellow-workers.

To-day he has offered himself as a Government candidate for the coming election, solely in the interests of his fellow countrymen, to further extend his labor policy.

Then again, we have Capt. Jones a man who has done much for the uplift of his country. A man resolved to perform what he ought; and to perform without fail what he resolved.

These are the men who make a country—those who bring to it whatever of iron sinew and unflinching spirit, possesses or desires.

Now, Sir, in closing, I must say that the Big Humber industry, along with our mineral and agricultural wealth, no argument is necessary to establish beyond peradventure the manifest destiny of our Dominion.

Barnes, Brown and Jones for Grand Falls, no Tory need apply. Thanking you for space, Mr. Editor, I remain, Sir, INDUSTRY IS KING.

Grand Falls,
April 3rd., 1923.

For the Elector

We are now drawing near to the dawn of another Election Day, or what is more commonly called Polling Day.

It is to be wise on the part of every voter when approaching such an important event in the career of our Dominion, to sit and ponder before deciding to cast his vote.

Ponder, what a small and insignificant word that is; what a mighty and important work.

King Bruce pondered over his failures and unsuccessful efforts to accomplish something beneficial for his country and people the failure of which weighed as a clog upon his oppressed and worried mind—was prompted in an instant to press on; to the goal which he aimed at, by the example of a little insignificant insect—the spider.

It behooves us, therefore, to ponder well this situation before we decide the well-being of our country incasting our vote for her weal or woe.

We, as countrymen, as communities, as individuals must always gather courage in attempting that which demands the best that is in us.

The Book of Books says: "No man liveth unto himself," therefore, we as a whole have to pull together, must—after we ponder and decide—be for the Progress and Prosperity of our native land.

We have to look well to our duty as citizens and freemen that our country is benefited by our activities on polling day, for of course that which benefits a country and people must of necessity be good.

Nothing to my mind can be more appalling or distressing to the welfare of a country or individual than misrepresentation. We unluckily have in our midst those who unfortunately think it proper and fair to misrepresent and ridicule those who differ from them in opinion.

Give me the man who can always be fair and just in criticism. A gentleman in his dealings with those who differ from him. Life is too brief for slander, misrepresentation, and ridicule. Our life slogan should be as citizens of no mean country.

Do all the good you can, in every way you can, As long as you can.

Voters of the Dominion, and especially of this district, think you not at the silent and secret casting of your votes, bespeaks the attitude of the voter.

When men have pondered well the best way to decide for the welfare of his country, there can be nothing amiss with the state of the Poll.

To-day the cry goes forth from the hearts of thousands of which the writer is one: God give us a country worth living in. To gratify that yearning the voters themselves must know how to decide.

No country that has her industries undeveloped, can ever be a fit place for the home of man, for the creator created the Earth and the things therein for the home of man, to be utilized for man's welfare and to his service.

When we realize our duty to our country as a fit home for men, we believe will not be backward in performing our duty as an electorate, but will support the party who is endeavoring to make this land truly a Newfoundland, by developing her resources giving thereby every man a straight deal, a living wage and better homes, by making glad the heart of men.

We are not here to growl and frown about matters that would drag us down, for obstacles are only sent to test our courage, if its bent on Progress and Prosperity. For this we join in Unity.

ENUMERATOR.

Amongst the latter were Lady Allard, Major Bell and Capt. Goodfellow, Lady Squires and a number of prominent social citizens. His Excellency the Governor was unavoidably absent. Lady Allard and party were received and welcomed by Mrs. Herbert Outerbridge, Mrs. R. F. Emerson, Miss Southcott, Miss Hurst and Miss Lightbourne.

The music which was beautifully rendered by the Prince's Orchestra, was all that could be desired. A regular dance programme was played as well as several novelty dances.

The exhibition of modern dancing by Miss Doris Mews and Mr. Dick Fraser was particularly well executed and evoked hearty applause. The elimination dance provided a considerable amount of interest and the prizes were awarded to Miss Constance Crane and Mr. MacDonald. At 11 o'clock the Executive of the Child Welfare Association with the assistance of a number of friends, served a delicious supper which was fully enjoyed.

The Hall was beautifully decorated and its appearance was a credit to the artistic sense of Miss Betty McNeil who was responsible for it. The affair terminated at an early hour this morning and was voted an outstanding success.

Tory Trio Finds it
Chilly on Bell
Island

After much hesitation as to whether they should go to Bell Island or not, the Tory Trio for St. John's East, Higgins, Vincombe and Fox plucked up sufficient courage yesterday to sneak over to the Island.

Their reception, according to telephone messages received in the city, was what might have been expected. It was frigidly cold.

Their meeting at the Star Hall last night was a frost pure and simple. Two or three hundred voters attended out of courtesy to hear how Higgins would explain his neglect of the Island since his election in 1919 and although he talked for over an hour slating the Government for this, that and the other thing, he let no light in on his own marked delinquencies.

With the exception of a few ardent followers, who made as much noise as they could to resemble vociferous applause, the gathering were unaffected by Higgins's ranting, nor were they any more stirred by the eloquence of Fox or the platitudes of Vincombe.

The many questions fired at the Tory candidates, completely spoiled the meeting.

The three are now tearing around the Island in a desperate attempt to regain lost ground, but Bell Island has had enough of them and will now elect men who will remember them at other times than on the end of elections.

A similar frost awaits Higgins and his drags at the other eastern settlements, because the whole of St. John's East are going to support Squires and the Humber by voting the straight ticket for Bartlett, Bulley and Burke.

COST OF SHIPS

LONDON, April 16—Arthur Gillingham, Managing Director of the Vickers Company, Montreal, leaving for Canada, yesterday, remarked that British yards could build ships at forty percent, lower cost than Canadian yards, due entirely to the difference in labor costs. More orders for lake freighters would likely come to British yards, he said.

Tory Meeting at Pinchards Island Was a Failure

Pinchard's Island,
March 21st, 1923.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—As time now affords us an opportunity, we will now take the pleasure of giving you a brief outline of the slanderous meeting held here by the Bennett-Crosbie-Morine outfit on March 19th. Never in the history of Newfoundland did such a gang of calumniators stand on a political floor and address an audience. Now Mr. Editor, from the beginning of the meeting to the end, there was nothing said of any benefit about the welfare of this country. Some neck, those bluffers had I'll tell the world, to stand up and abuse better men than themselves. One would think those men of gumption would know better than come and talk such tomfoolery to people who know as much or more about politics than themselves. May be some of their thinking powers have been blurr'd lately. The people are getting wise to your price of fraudery now, dear bluffers, and are more determined to stand by Coaker than ever. Less than two months ago the U. F. Movement gang brought their Manifesto to Pinchard's Island, and one of the speakers in the meeting said he wasn't in favour at all of Crosbie and Cashin. He also said they weren't qualified to manage the political affairs of this country. And now we find the same person around upholding the Bennett-Crosbie-Morine gang. Who are they to sit in judgment on the men who have befriended the underdogs of this country?

Most of them were brought up in the fishing boat like the rest of us. When they stand on the platform all they will talk about is, I went down and got a load of fish, and I did this and the other thing.

Now, Mr. Editor, in closing, we wish to say on the tail of the meeting the Union spark created into a great flame—scaring the Tories out of their wits. Some, I may say, went out through the windows. Had they not turned off the switch I guess some of the gang wouldn't get the privilege of canvassing any more, as they would have been shocked too much by the Union current.

We, the majority of Pinchard's Island are in favour of the present Government. Give us the lumber and other industries.

And now, dear friends, we'll tell you why we have written these few short notes. Its to warn those Tory bluffers who come here to ask for votes.

Better chances in the P. House, Dear Bennetts you'll find, When we mark our X on polling day You won't be in our mind.

God speed to President Coaker, Our tried and faithful friend, May he ever be successful, And all his battles win.

Good luck will follow Sea-ees, And all his jolly crew, For the fishermen are bet ad his back And are faithful, strong and true.

Thanking you for space, and wishing the F. P. U. and all of its representatives every success.

Toryism Must Be Given Its Final Blow

Dear Sir,—Will you allow me space in your much read paper to make a few remarks, as it is getting towards the time when we will have to weight the great matter carefully and consider in whose hands we are going to place the welfare of our country.

As I have been reading your paper, I see many pieces from other places, and also pieces from boys from this place, who are working in the city, and as I have read these pieces, I see that amid the Opposition and Toryism, that the fire of Unionism is not yet quenched. I am also interested with the way in which they are taking this country to heart and also the great appeals they have made to their countrymen to vote for those who are trying to upfit their country and countermen to face the great problem of life.

Union men and voters, what are you going to do? Are you going to vote against the present Government and against the men who have fought so nobly for your country and the welfare of his countrymen? Are you going to put down the brain-working man in all his efforts to trash out the things worth having. I say, No! a thousand times No! Why should we? We must have him and let him follow his desires to do good, to the down trodden people. Who has given us the instructions of foreign markets and opened our eyes to the condition of them—the Hon. W. F. Coaker, and he is also extending his interests which he has in his fellow countrymen, interviewing these great establishments and consulting about this country in which he was born and bred; and to tell them what it's not, and what it would be if it were only once opened up and put into operation. He also tells them about the Humber and what it would mean to Newfoundland, if once put into operation. He has beaten the path. Why not follow in the trail? Of course, every honest thinking fisherman and hard working man is lined up to back the labour problem. We hard working men know what labour has meant to us ever since Mr. Miller came to this country, and what would it still mean if it were extended to double as much as it is to-day. You all know what it would mean if the fishery fails. As your experience in the past and its stamped on your memory. One development is not enough for us. When we get other great Companies interested in our timber and establishing more of these large pulp mills, what a great difference it will make on us poor people. It will mean more labor and also better wages, not confined to one place and bleeding the poor working man to death with sub-contracting and scarcely nothing to feed their families for the coming winter. We will have a better state of things if we get the Humber? Wages will be given in the woods, no mean one either, according to the statement of the Hon. W. F. Coaker, in his great speech, that he made in the Orange Hall the night of the second of this month. He was bound to Bonavista Bay, the ice at the Cape interfered and he came to this harbour. Some of us never heard him, before being away for years, but they had their privilege of hearing a two hour and fifteen minute speech and sitting with a spell-bound audience. The meeting was a great success and many cheers were given to the Government and many hands clasped his. Now Mr. Editor, thank you for space. I remain.

Yours truly,

ONE IN THE FIGHT,

TORY MEETING CLOSES WITH CHEERS FOR SQUIRES

(To the Editor.)

Dear Sir.—We had here with us at King's Point last night three gentlemen in the persons of Mr. Perry, Mr. Elias Welton, also J. Taylor from Sprinfield, to lecture to us in favor of the Liberal-Labour-Progressive Party. But to my mind that is a very inappropriate name for that party. It should be called the Tory Stagnation Party. Now, Mr. Editor, to get down to the first speaker, Mr. Taylor, we felt sorry for that poor man, as he was embarrassed in reading the speech some person had written off for him. He should have spent more time in learning that speech and he wouldn't have been so tired when he gave up as it is very tiresome standing up before an audience constantly turning over so many leaflets from a large writing table. Someone suggested in the meeting that it would be wise for him to send to Grand Falls and order a lighter grade of paper, as it is very heavy carrying around such a lengthy speech on such heavy paper.

As for Mr. Welton, we felt sorry that that gentleman should be traveling canvassing for such a Party. Some things Mr. Welton spoke of were alright, and what he did say he did without the aid of anyone else. But there were some things he did say we didn't give him much credit for. Being an old friend of ours, we felt sorry that he is associating himself with such a party, being himself a fisherman. As for Mr. Perry, we came to the conclusion that he liked to hear himself talking. That was why he would repeat the one thing over so often. But there was one thing he forgot to tell us, and that was how Cashin threw—yes, actually threw away $70,000 over and above the former election expenses. He told us every bad point, or thought that this government ever did. But he didn't tell us the good ones. He is paid for talking, and to assure you Mr. Editor, his gibbling didn't carry much weight with us. And that much he learnt at the close of the meeting. There was not a cheer given them, and only a few clapped their hands. Someone had a little sympathy for them and clapped them down, but Mr. Editor, when the meeting came to a close, a close friend of mine asked for three cheers for the Hon. W. F. Coaker, and Sir R. A. Squires, the building girls rang and the rafters sent back the echo, Squires is Returned. I feel certain that those three gentlemen will return to their homes sadder but wiser men.

Canadians Think Einstein Correct

TORONTO, April 6.—Observations in Australia during the total eclipse of the sun on September 21 last by Canadian scientists are entirely favorable to the Einstein theory, said Professor C. A. Chant of the University of Toronto, yesterday, following his completion of measurements and calculations based on the information obtained.

Einstein had predicted that if his theory was correct the stars when photographed with the sun apparently in their midst would show a displacement outward from the sun as compared with the positions of the same stars when the sun was not in that portion of the heavens. These latter positions were recorded at night in June with the same camera, on the island of Tahiti.

HARD TO MEASURE.

"Over thirty stars were recognized on the plates but to-day twenty-three were submitted to measurement and eight of these were later discarded," said Prof. Chant. "Indeed of the remaining fifteen only four were reasonably near the sun's position. The actual displacement on the plate is extremely small, ranging from about one-fiftieth-hundredth to one-eightieth-hundredth part of an inch."

"The difficulty of measuring with certainty the positions of the faint stars made it impossible to obtain perfectly conclusive evidence of the law, but there is a displacement and its amount appears approximately that predicted by Einstein's theory."

MRS. COFFMAN ILL SEVEN YEARS

Saved from an Operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sidell, Ill.—"I was a nervous wreck. I was suffering from a pain in my left side, which was almost unbearable, and I could not even let the bed clothing rest on my body at night. I had been sick for seven years, but not so bad until the last eighteen months, and had become so run-down that I cared for nobody, and would rather have died than live. I couldn't do my work without help, and the doctors told me that an operation was all there was left. I would not consent to that, so my husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged me to take it. I have taken fourteen bottles of it and I feel ten years younger. Life is full of hope. I do all my housework and had a large garden this year. I never will be without the Vegetable Compound in the house, and when my two little girls reach womanhood I intend to teach them to take it. I am never too busy to tell some suffering sister of my help, and you can use my name and letter to spread the good news of Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines."

—Mrs. Ida M. Coffman, R.B.2, Sidell, Ill.

There is also, too little co-operation between the home and the school. I think it is the duty of every parent to firmly uphold the rules and discipline laid down by the teachers. Too often we find the children questioned and encouraged to repeat everything that transpires within the school-room, then before the child the parents will criticize the teacher thus causing it to less the respect it had for its teacher.

In some cases if the teachers ideas are a little too advanced for the parent, the latter begins to kick and to "raise the wind," and in that way hinders instead of helps the cause of education. We should all work together, and if we were as interested in our children and country's welfare as we should be, we would be satisfied to sink our own selfish and narrow views, and do so.

In conclusion, I would like to say that I am proud to welcome Dr. Barnes, Minister of Education, as a member for Notre Dame Bay, and I trust that he and his party will at the coming elections, be returned with large majorities.

Trusting I have not trespassed, I am,

What a future for these children! What a Dominion will be ours, composed of illiterate people! We can not advance. In some respects we are as far back now, as we were in the days of Henry VIII.

Unless educated people are forth coming, progress is retarded in every direction. How can a person understand rightly whether he is being taken advantage of or otherwise, in business, if he has to trust entirely to the person with whom he trades? How can the men who compose the electorate of Nfld. reason correctly and mark their ballots for the men, who will do the best good for the country; when they cannot read the newspapers themselves or even hear them read intelligently, and have to depend entirely on what someone tells them.

We shall always be behind unless this matter of Education is taken vigorously in hand, and children are compelled to attend school.

We have a teacher in almost every settlement and surely a little money can be found to buy books and to pay the small tax per quarter, for the children's education. Readers, men and women, for your children's sake, for your country's sake, do not allow your children to grow up in ignorance.

I have lived in localities, where men who, through bad management or some other cause, have had but a small income; but part of that has been spent on pipes, cigarettes, and tobacco, while their children have been allowed to grow up little better than wild things. The women, too, are much to blame, for I have known mothers who for any paltry excuse will keep their children from school. Just fancy keeping home a child of 10 years to make mats or to card wool!

Then, other parents send their children, but are too negligent to see whether they go provided with books, slates or pencils, while "water-bottle" and "slate-cloth" is entirely too absurd. Let them use some other body's, or any old thing, probably it never occurs to them that they need to clean their slates?

A child, thus sent from home, will in all probability idle on his way, reach the school-room too late, and (in a good many cases) return home with the report "As he was too late, the teacher sent him home." The negligent parent doesn't take the trouble to investigate the matter, (but doesn't forget to blame the teacher) and the child goes and comes at his own pleasure. Reader do you think a parent like that is interested in the well-being of his child?

Even if a child sent out from a home he gets no encouragement, attends school regularly, he doesn't take the same interest as he would if his parents kindly but firmly taught him that school is the place for a child, where he will be helped to develop his character, and to fit himself for the business of life.

Too many people are obsessed with the idea (ridiculous) that unless the child is to become a minister, teacher, or merchant, there is no necessity of it learning anything more than reading, writing, and the simplest rules of arithmetic. But we need educated fishermen, farmers, copers, carpenters, ship-builders and mill-wrights, and in every other trade, educated men and women are needed.

There is also, too little co-operation between the home and the school. I think it is the duty of every parent to firmly uphold the rules and discipline laid down by the teachers. Too often we find the children questioned and encouraged to repeat everything that transpires within the school-room, then before the child the parents will criticize the teacher thus causing it to less the respect it had for its teacher.

BAY-DE-VERDE WILL VOTE FOR WORK AND WAGES

(To the Editor.)

Flatrock, Bay de Verde, April 9th, 1923.

Dear Sir—Kindly allow me space in your valuable paper for a few remarks. As this is a small settlement there is not much matter sent to the Press for publication, but, nevertheless, the people of Flat Rock have their own opinion which is as firm for the present government as the Rock of Gibraltar.

I received a letter from the Hon. J. C. Crosbie and J. C. Puddister and after having read it and spent some time in silent contemplation of its contents, I feel it my duty to publish its absurdity and inform Mr. Crosbie of his political standing in the District of Bay de Verde, also his duty Mr. J. C. P. Sir John Crosbie, you have served your time in the District of Bay de Verde and in the estimation of the voters here, you has as much chance as a snow-ball in the month of August. Now, brother voter, Mr. Crosbie states in his letter that "the country has been grossly mis-managed." That sentence demands analysis. Let us consider the activities of Sir Richard Squires during the past three and a half years. Was he not working day and night for the betterment of the country, and brought it thru the most strenuous times a Frontier ever had to face in the count-down in spite of the almost strategical maneuvering of the opposition. Sir Richard Squires is the instrumentality of the Humber Proposition, and it endorsed will give work to thousands and will be the biggest industrial development Newfoundland has ever known. He, also, through his diplomatic relations, was the means of the re-opening of the Bell Island Mines, thus providing work to hundreds more. He negotiated with the Spanish Government, and the tax was removed from the fish, thus proving himself the fishermen's friend. All this Sir John Crosbie and J. C. Puddister terms mis-management. Giving employment to our men is mis-management, is the belief of the Tory clan. Keep the poor man down one might as well be in Russia among the Bolsheviks as to be under Tory rule. So come on voters, vote for Squires and the Humber Proposition, he is the man we want; thorough leader a renowned diplomat and the back-bone of the Humber. Now, boys, vote for the Humber Proposition and employment for all. Three cheers for Squires, go to it Coaker, old man, and leave it to the voters of Bay de Verde we will Cramm Crosbie. Mr. Cave, who a few years ago was a stranger amongst us, has proved to be a gentleman and the poor man's friend. His genial personality has won the admiration of all. Vote for Cave and his colleague Mr. Richard Cramm. Keep up the good work, Mr. Cave; and a decisive victory is ahead for you.

W. A. McKay Acts Blatantly

BRIGUS, April 16.—W. A. McKay, Opposition candidate for this district, held a meeting here Saturday night, which resulted in a loss for him the only chance he ever had in getting anywhere near the votes that Winter will poll on May third. The first part of his address was taken up with blowing his own trumpet, about all the great things he had accomplished in Cape Breton, which did not have much weight with his audience.

He then started in to abuse and slander one of the most popular men in Conception Bay, Mr. A. W. Piccott. He even went so far as to make sport of his physical disablement, and asked his audience whether they would employ a man like Piccott to cut a cord of wood for them, at the same time bending his arm and hobbling about the platform like a cripple.

Any chance McKay had of winning a few votes, however, by his abuse on Saturday night, we can assure him that when Polling Day comes around he will be shown that such things are not tolerated by the fair minded people of Brigus, and we take this opportunity of demanding from Mr. McKay a public apology before he again attempts to speak on a platform in Brigus.

(Signed)—H. French, E. Roberts, M. Gushue, G. Archman, P. Jackson, L. Percy, J. Gushue, B. Hazeltine, C. Mead, S. Roberts, W. Roberts, G. Jerrett, J. King, J. England, J. Watts, A. Roberts, J. Pinkstone, and a hundred others.

Tories Won't Bet Against Seamus

(Special to The Advocate.)

BONNE BAY, April 17.—The Bonne Bay Liberal Committee, at its last night for a survey of the week's campaign, Mr. Seamus present. Reports show Trout River, Rocky Mt. and Western Arm, Bonne Bay, all showing five per cent for Seamus, with Woody Point showing a Liberal vote than last election. This is a safe and conservative estimate. Reports show Seamus will poll majority vote on the coast to Port Saunders and overwhelming majority north from that to Flower's Cove and his election in the district is a foregone conclusion. Tories are not betting against him, although all kinds of odds are offered. We want the Liberal Party with development and labor and we intend to back Seamus with all our energies between now and on polling day.

Signed on behalf of the committee: Fraser James, Alfred B. Mallard, Leslie Payne, O. E. Taylor, Alex. Payne.

Billiard Dinner To Night

As the result of a billiard tournament held by the members of the Total Abstinence Society during the Lenten season, in which spot side was victorious, a dinner provided by the losers is being held in the Club Room to-night. Covers, for about 180 members, are set, and will be laid and the Ladies Auxiliary, so well known for its excellent catering on such occasions will furnish a delightful repast. A Toast List has been prepared which is of an excellent character and the speakers to the various toasts include some of our prominent speakers and lecturers, and a most entertaining and delightful evening will, no doubt, be enjoyed. The committee in charge has spared no effort to make the function a success and will be undoubtedly so.

Grimes Has Big Meeting at Fredosiction

(Special to The Advocate.)

FREDRICKTON, April 17.—Mr. Grimes, Liberal standard bearer, held meeting here in school house last night, which was attended by all the voters of the place and some from Naggin Cove. At the close of a ninety minutes address on the Humber industry, taxation and expenditure, hearty cheers were given for him and the Liberal Party. This place, which Long's supporters claimed was solid for him, unmistakably showed that it will loyally stand by Grimes and the Government.

AQUAFORTE TURNS DOWN CASHIN AND MOORE

AQUAFORTE, April 14.—Cashin's and Moore's meeting here was a failure. Victory for Hearn and McGuire all along the line.

Gashin Always Backed The Merchants Against The Fishermen

M. P. Cashin, who is to-day the guide, philosopher and friend of the Tory merchants was always noted for backing the merchants as against the fishermen. It is therefore natural that the Tory Merchants, when they started out to get control of the country's affairs for the purpose of keeping the fishermen "below the salt," should place themselves unreservedly in the hands of the man who has so consistently fought their battles, because he is a merchant himself.

There is an episode, well remembered in certain circles, connected with the purchase of salt in 1917. The price of salt had gone up from $1.00 a hoghead to $3.90 a hoghead and the merchants, with the assistance of Sir Edward Morris, who was then in England had made large importations of salt which they were selling at the above named price. Sir Michael Cashin was acting premier during Sir Edward Morris's absence, and it was freely stated on the street at the time that Cashin had entered into an agreement with the Water Street merchants that nobody but them would be permitted to import salt and undersell them.

Cashin was confronted with this plot to protect a crowd of profiteering merchants against the natural consequences of competition from other possible importers. Cashin, seeing that his game had been discovered, tried to get out of it by putting up a yarn to the effect that he had promised the merchants who made the big salt importations and who were selling it to the fishermen at the enormous price of $3.90, that should the war end before they had sold all their salt, he would see to it that no other salt was imported and sold at a lower price than they were then charging.

This same Cashin, fishermen of Newfoundland, is the man who is to-day actually leading the Tory merchants in the fight against the Squires Government, against the Humber Proposition and against you.

He protected the merchants in 1917 by seeing to it that the fishermen would not get salt cheaper than the price his merchant friends were prepared to sell it for.

And he would even give them a bounty on fish.

Would he not back them now as against the fishermen if his party was elected?

There is not the slightest doubt about it!

"Bully-Dog Drummond" at The Casino

The Casino players gave an unusual type of play for these times last night, when a melodrama, beloved by the "gallery gods" of past days, was staged to a large audience. The plot concerned "Bully-Dog Drummond," who is out for adventure and finds a girl whose uncle is in the power of a gang of crooks, who stop at nothing to line their pockets with gold. Mr. Carey as Major Drummond gave a faithful portrayal of the character, and Miss Amy Dennis earned new laurels for very natural acting and clear enunciation. It is a play that old stagers will enjoy as the different climaxes were undoubtedly exciting, the end working out as usual, happily for the man and the maid. Several local players take part in this play.

The Casino Players are easily the best aggregation we have had here for a great number of years, and their work promises many more enjoyable evenings before they go. "Bully-Dog Drummond" will continue for the balance of this week.

Joe Batt's Arm Refutes Tory Lies

(Special to The Advocate.)

JOE BATT'S ARM, April 17.—The report of Grimes' meeting at Seldom as reported by "Truth" in Telegram April 6th, is incorrect and concocted, and intended only to mislead. If "Truth" thinks that Joe Long will even get a look in he had better get his fortune told again. Fogo is easy win for Government.

Enthusiastic For Maddock

Committee Meeting, Carbonear, Saturday, Becomes Public Demonstration of Liberals.

CARBONEAR, April 14.—Liberal Committee rooms here, were so overcrowded with voters to-night that meeting developed into a big public demonstration in favor of Maddock.

Mr. John Duff was to have taken the chair, but was absent through illness, so Mr. P. Saunders officiated in his place.

Rousing speeches were delivered and immense enthusiasm prevailed all through the evening.

Mr. J. Maddock, the Liberal candidate, received a wonderful ovation, when he appeared on the platform and his speech simply took the audience by storm.

Other speakers for the evening were Messrs. S. B. Pike, J. C. Foote and W. B. Finn, of Carbonear, and James Sutton and George Peckham, of Victoria.

Carbonear District will elect Maddock with a huge majority.

Great news is reaching us from the North Shore. The near end of Bay de Verde District, from Freshwater down to Ochre Pit Cove, is practically solid for Cave and Cramm, who have completed their canvass in this section and we understand that the other end of the district will give majority for Government.
